The meeting of the Board of Managers of the Woman's Christian Association, held in the Association Hall on Monday, the 5th, was of unusual interest. Besides the routine business, a report was made by Mrs. Rahm, the Virginia delegate to the Blennial Conference of International Board of Woman's and Young Woman's Christian Associations.

At this conference questions of national importance were discussed, among them the union or affiliation of the two great bodies doing the same work. The result was friendly greatings sent to the American Committee, with an invitation to send a delegate to the next conference, held in Baltimore in 1998.

The Board of Managers have concluded to hold a rummage sale the last of the week, and contributions are earnestly requested.

At the meeting of the Milton Work Whist Club yesterday the highest score north and south was a tie between Mrs. Edmund Waddill and Miss Claire Guitaume, Mrs. Noel and Mrs. Spilman; east and west, M ss Jane Rutherfoord and Mrs. Fairfax Montague.

Remains of These Ladies to be Brought to Richmond

Next Tuesday.

Next Tuesday,

Next Tuesday, November 17th, the remains of Mrs. Monroe and daughter, wife end daughter, respectively, of President James Monroe, will be brought to this city at the expense of the State and reinterred one on each side of the famous author of the Monroe doctrine in Hollywood Cemetery. This is done in accordance with a bill passed in the spring by the present Legislature, appropriating $500 to defray the expenses of the removal of the dust of Mrs. Monroe and her daughter from the family burying ground, on Oak Hill estate, near Leesburg, to this city.

Mr. J. R. Hooper, superintendent of Hollywood Cemetery, has been selected by the committee in charge to go to Oak Hill and personally direct the work of exhuming the bodies and bringing them to this city. The bodies will be taken up on next Monday and brought to Washington Monday evening, where they will rest that night. Descendants of Mrs. Monroe, about twenty in number, living in Washington and Baitimore, will join the party in Washington and Tuesday morning all will be brought to this city, the train reaching here between il and 12 o'clock.

"The Christian."

Hall Calne's great play, "The Christian," will be presented at the Academy on Friday night by a company said to be fully capable in every respect to do justice to this production. The scenery is adapted to the incidents of the piece, and it is the rame used in the original New York production by Miss Viola Allen and at the Academy of Music, New York city, this season. "The Christian" has a high standing as a moral play and justly holds the position it has won of the best on the American stage to-day. Mr. on the American stage to-day. Miss Viola Allen evidently proposed. when she set about to produce "Twelfth Night," that the performers should be when she set about to produce "Tweitth Night," that the performers should be able to speak blank verse correctly. Every player engaged for the organization has had cultured experience in the reading of Shakespeare—a special training that can only be acquired with commanies of the first order. John Blair, who appears as Malvollo, was Mrs. Patrick Campbell's leading man, and James Young, the Sebastian, was with Sir Henry Irving in England and was a few years ago a member of Augustin Daly's Shakespearlan company. Frank Currier is the Sir Andrew Aguecheek, and Scott Craven the Duke Orsino. Mr. Currier appeared as Sir Andrew with Miss Marlowe when she presented "Tweifth Night," and was also the stage manager of the company. He played Sir Andrew with George Ringold in Australia, and was also the producer of the play. In both America and Australia Mr. Currier made great hits as Sir Andrew, Mr. Craven, who was the leadingman for Mrs. Langtry in England, and was siarred under George Edwarde's management in South Africa, enacted the Duke in Ben Greet's Ismous Shakespearian company, and at many special performances in England. Nora O'Brien, who has starred in Shakespeare, is the Olivia, and Zeffle Tilbury, who made a great hit as Maria in Beerbohm Tree's famous production in London, enacts the same role with Miss Allen. C. Lessie Allen, a fine actor and one who can always be relied upon for a finished and careful portrayal, will be the Antonio. The production will be at the Academy Saturday, matines and night.

Tickets for Children.

Tickets for Children.

"Will I give the tickets, as promised, for the best composition on the subject. The Night Before Christmas?" repeated Manager McKee, of the Bljou. "Sure. I promised to give a couple of tickets to the child writing the best composition on the subject, and I am running over with compositions. Some really good ones. But two tickets will never do for that occasion. I am going to give a dozen, at least. The work of the children has been fine, and there is already a best, but the seconds are so good that I have decided to give ten single tickets to the others and to extend the time for their reception until 8 o'clock Wednesday night.

"I will ask the children to call for the tickets and will arrange for a box party on Saturday. The names of the winners will be published in the papers Friday."

The play had an appreciative audience last night, and while it was not large, the applause was deafening at times. The play is one of the refreshing, human interest, sympathetic kind, which causes one to wish to see it a second time.

once."
Well, Polka Dot agreed to ride him, and they waited for a train. Billy Goose, with Polka Dot, got on one track and held their breath until they saw a train coming on the other.
"Toot! toot!" said the train.
"Get up!" cried Polka Dot.
"We're off!" sang out Billy Goose.

POLKA DOT AGREED TO RIDE.

And down the tracks they went. It was really quite surprising how fast the Goose count run. Around the curves, across hedges and through tunnels they hurried, until Polka Dot got real dizzy and his eyes were filled with cinders.

Presently what should Billy Goose see ahead of him but another train coming in his very direction and on the self-same track on which he was running. "Get out of the way!" cried Polka Dot. "Don't stop me!" said the train.

"Get out of the way!" cried Polka Dot. "Don't stop me!" said Billy Goose. And the next moment the train hit poor Billy, and there wasn't anything left of the race, so far as he was concerned, but a basketful of goose feathers that Polka Dot picked up from the track half an hour later, when he had recovered from the shock.

portant Docket.

The Supreme Court of Appeals met for its regular fall term yesterday and proceeded to the hearing of cases on the docket.

Chief interest centered around the demurrage and detention cases appealed from the Corporation Commission by the railway companies of the State, and it was postponed until the March term, which convenes here on March 2, 1904.

The case went over on motion of Attorney-General W. A. Anderson, who said the record had only recently been printed and he had not had sufficient time to familiarize himself with it on behalf of the State. Hon, John L. Jeffries was on hand to represent the State Board of Trade and to appear with Major Anderson, in resisting the appeal. Mr. Braxton, who is associated with them, was not present.

Messrs. Wickham, Thom, Hamilton and other corporation counsel were on hand to look after the case for the railroads. Mr. Jeffries expressed the belief, when seen last night, that the case would be gone into and disposed of at the Match term.

First case called, Ellinger vs. Commonwealth. Argued by J. H. Fletcher, Jr., and C. V. Meredith for plaintiff, and the Attorney-General for the Commonwealth. Continued until to-day.

Next case, Commonwealth vs. Williams. Passed to January term.

CANVASSERS MEET

The Board of Risio Canvassers met yesterday and awarded certificates of election to Maior J. W. Bruce of Danville, who succeeds Colonel George C. Cahell, Jr., in the House, and to Hon. J. L. Campbell, the Senator who succeeds the late Graham Clavior, from Bedford.

The board decided that they could not issue a certificate to Hon. Henry B. Lee, of Nottoway, who claims to have been elected to succeed to the unexpired term of Hon. R. G. Southall, as well as for a full term of two years from January 1, 1904. There was some doubt as to whether it was the intention of the votors of the district to elect Mr. Lee, as his name was on the ticket only "for House of Delegates," without stating what term, though he had been regularly nominated for both. The matter was referred by the House to its Elections Committee, and over it a nice question will likely arise.

SUIT.

So many requests have been received for a "Buster Brown" suit that we are showing one especially for those youngsters who would follow "Buster's" style of dress. If not his actions. The suit is immensely popular, and it is characterized by the front opening (hid by the tie), and which may be underfaced or fin'shed with laps and a big turn-over collar. The blouse silps on over the head, and shaping is given by the shoulder and under-arm seams. The sleeve is the real boyish kind, having backward turning tucks in the lower edge althouge, if one prefers, a narrow band could be used instead, making the sleeve bishop style. The knickerbockers are of reguation thanking and may be secured at the weeks.
